

(a) Bilateral processing within a received useful OFDM symbol

Bilateral does not mean future leakage: the complete useful symbol is received before encoding.

(b) What the 959-sample receptive field actually covers

(c) Architecture matched to the local classification target

